Nab 2 Girls Who Fled Detention

Both Picked Up Today At West Olive; Matron Not Seriously Injured

GRAND HAVEN — Two 15-year-old girls who escaped from the Ottawa County Juvenile Detention home near Grand Haven Sunday night were apprehended at 9:20 a.m. Monday at the West Olive home of one of the girls.

The two escaped when a third girl, a 13-year-old from Allegan County, struck the matron, Mrs. Marvin Swartz, on the head with a claw hammer. The escape occurred at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Swartz grabbed her attacker and held her until help arrived. The two older girls fled through the living quarters of Mr. and Mrs. Swartz. All other doors to the home were locked. Mrs. Swartz required no hospital treatment.

Ottawa County Sheriff's cruisers were sent to patrol the area around the home, and Sheriff Bernard Grysen tracked the girls with a pair of bloodhounds.

The dogs tracked the girls about a mile northwest of the home but lost the track near Rosy Mound on Lakeshore Dr. where it appeared the girls may have been picked up.

The 13-year-old girl told authorities the escape had been planned. She said they had taken the hammer from the home's maintenance room about three days ago.

The attack on Mrs. Swartz occurred when the matron was helping one of the girls pin up her hair. The three girls were the only juveniles being held at the home.

One of the girls who escaped was from Munising in Alger County in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. The older girls were being held at the Michigan Girls' Home in Adrian. Both had been at the home since it opened Feb. 26.

The 13-year-old was awaiting a hearing in Allegan Probate Court because of a series of runaways.

The Swartzes have operated the home since its opening. The home has a capacity of eight boys and four girls.

Parachutist Breaks Leg

GRAND HAVEN — The Grand Rapids Sky Diving Club would have been better off if it had never left the ground Wednesday.

One of the daredevil parachutists broke his right leg and then, when the plane landed, police found the pilot-owner of the craft had failed to register it in Michigan.

Russell Lee Girard, 33, Holland, was injured. He was one of four chutists who had completed safely one jump over the Grand Haven Airport. But on the second try about 7:30 p.m. he missed the target area and landed in a pine grove.

Girard was taken to Holland Hospital by ambulance. His condition was described as good today.

The sky divers had jumped from 2,500 feet and were using standard 34-foot Air Force parachutes, a spokesman said.

James Nelson, Grand Haven, was questioned concerning the accident when he landed and when it was learned his craft did not have a Michigan registration, he was issued a summons on a violation of the state aeronautics code.

Fire Department Answers 4 Alarms

Holland Fire Department trucks barely had time to cool their engines Wednesday as firemen answered four alarms within a nine-hour period.

A gas stove explosion at the Ernest Dyer home at 449 West 23rd St. at 4:50 p.m. caused an estimated $50 damage. No one was injured. Firemen said a pocket of gas in the oven of a kitchen range exploded when the oven was being lit. Curtains and paint in the room were damaged by the blast, firemen said.

At 9:30 p.m. firemen sped to 18th St. and Maple Ave. to answer an alarm turned in at a fire alarm box. It was a false alarm.

Firemen also extinguished a pair of grass fires. A fire on Glenfield Ave. near Eighth St. at 2:40 p.m. and one at 32nd St. and Myrtle Ave. in Central Park about 1 p.m. caused no damage, firemen said.

Driver Cited in Crash

Ottawa County deputies cited Karen G. Pittard, 19, of 2251 Auburn Ave., for interfering with through traffic following a two-car crash at the intersection of Auburn Ave. and Ottawa Beach Rd. at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday. Deputies said the Pittard auto collided with a car driven by David A. Cole-

May Expand Sheriff's Department

ALLEGAN — Expansion of the sheriff's department staff and use of all county-owned equipment would increase operating costs from the present $57,465 to approximately $80,495.

That was the report of the Board of supervisors' jail committee, chaired by Bernard Miller, Monterey.

Miller said the committee had checked operations in four counties comparable in size to Allegan in arriving at its cost estimates.

Under the present set-up, Allegan's sheriff receives $8,400 a year, but must provide two cars and maintain them.

The jail committee's plan calls for the county to purchase four patrol cars for the department and pay the sheriff a $5,400 salary. The plan also calls for elimination of part-time deputy sheriffs or hiring five full-time officers.

The county dog warden, now under the sheriff, would head a separate department, responsible to the board of supervisors. The county would provide a radio-equipped truck and other equipment.

At present, the jail matron receives 38 cents per meal for feeding prisoners. The new plan would call for employing a cook at $3,000 a year with the county purchasing food supplies.

Miller said the committee felt that costs of this program would go down to approximately $76,000 a year, after the initial year's expense of purchasing patrol cars, trucks and other necessary equipment.

Supervisors are expected to act on the proposal before approving a tentative budget for 1963.

Vote Down Millage In Allegan

School District Had Requested 3 1/2 Mills To Meet Rising Costs

ALLEGAN — Allegan school district voters turned down a special 3 1/2 mill operating tax by 3 to 2 majority in voting here Monday.

With 1,018 votes cast 589 were opposed to the special three year levy and 393 favored it. There were 24 spoiled ballots and 12 left unmarked.

It was the first time the district had sought approval for extra operating funds.

Officials had blamed the need for additional funds on decreasing revenues as much as on rising costs. They said income during the current year is down approximately $48,000 as the result of decreases in the district's tax allocation, a reduction in the city's state equalized tax base and payment of interest on loans needed to meet operating costs because state aid payments were late.

Prior to the election school officials indicated that approval of the levy would provide funds for music, art, physical education and foreign language instruction in the grades.

There was no immediate indication from officials that the present program would be cut or if so where cuts would be made.

Allegan Will Ask 2 Mills

ALLEGAN — Allegan school board members Wednesday night decided to submit a reduced request for extra operating funds to voters at the regular June 11 election. The board approved asking a 2-mill increase in place of the 3 1/2 mills turned down by voters Monday.

Supt. L. E. White said the 2 mills would provide funds to balance declining revenues and meet the need for teacher salary increases. The additional 1 1/2 mills would have financed a grade school program which included art, physical education, music and Spanish instruction, and library improvements.

The board will ask voter approval of the 2-mill levy for a three-year period.

Attendants Ready Park For Summer

Lou Haney, manager of Holland State Park, plans to open the first camp ground utility building this weekend for the use of early campers at the park.

Tentative date for opening all park buildings is set as May 10. Prior to Memorial Day the beach will be cleaned up for swimmers and sun bather. Life guards will go on duty about June 3, Haney said.

Park attendants are presently replacing guard posts with guard rails along the entrance drive and in a few weeks will begin removing drifted sand from the pavements.

So far this season park officials have sold 3,274 annual and 8,016 daily park vehicle permits. Five camps have been made in the park while 38,970 persons have visited the park this year, Haney said.

Holland State Park led all other state parks in Michigan in the number of camps during 1961 with 7,074 camps. Attendance at the local park was second in the state and totaled approximately 986,000 last year. Officials at the park also sold more vehicle permits than were sold in any other state park last year.

George Hughes, park manager at Grand Haven State Park, has announced that the gate to the parking lot will be open in the evening for fishermen wishing to use the docks for smelt or perch fishing.

Total attendance in Grand Haven park this year is 73,037.

Estimate $70,000 Loss To Two Cabin Cruisers

Both Boats Burn, Sink At Marina

Third Vessel Damaged; Probe Cause of Blaze At Bay Haven Marina

Two cabin cruisers burned and sank early today at the Bay Haven Marina located on the north shore of Lake Macatawa. Marina officials set the loss at more than $70,000.

Cause of the blaze which destroyed a 35-foot boat owned by Tom Johnson of Saugatuck and Lansing and a 45-foot cruiser owned by Tony Coates, also of Lansing, was undetermined.

A third boat, tied up about 25 feet from the burning craft, suffered some damage. Paint and varnish were chipped and glass broken aboard the 50-foot cruiser, My Story, owned by Carl Story of Lansing.

Detectives of the state police fire marshal division were called in to investigate the cause of the costly fire.

Robert Linn, owner of the marina, said the blaze started on Johnson's boat. He said only Johnson's cruiser was burning when he and firemen first arrived at the scene of the blaze. The two boats were docked in adjacent slips.

Linn credited firemen and Coast Guardsmen with keeping the blaze from spreading to Story's boat. A Coast Guard patrol boat, equipped with a portable pump, fought the blaze from the water while firemen worked from the docks.

An easterly wind carried the smoke and fire from the burning boats away from Story's boat. Linn's son, David, sales manager for the marina, said both boats had been put into the water about a week ago. Coates' cruiser had a full tank of gasoline, about 350 gallons.

Park Township Fire Chief Jake De Feyter said the blaze was discovered at 3:30 a.m. by Howard Helder, a Park Township volunteer fireman who lives near the marina.

Johnson's boat was of plywood construction and burned fast. It sank first, De Feyter said. Coates' boat was constructed of heavier mahogany. Marina officials estimated the loss on Johnson's boat at about $25,000 and to Coates' boat at about $45,000. Coates' cruiser was furnished with several pieces of custom furniture, officials said.

Both boats were described as "new" boats, less than one year old. The younger Linn said no one had been aboard either of the boats since last weekend.

Firemen were at the scene of the blaze for more than an hour.

Local Group Sees Airborne TV Installations

New insights into the potential of education television was given some 50 educators and press representatives of the local area who flew to Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., Wednesday for a conference on the Midwest Program of Airborne Television Instruction. About 300 persons from the MPATI region which covers parts of six states attended the gathering.

At a morning session in Fowler Hall, visitors were briefed on the various aspects of the airborne program which beams classroom programs over an area covering 127,000 square miles with 7,000 students by means of a converted DC-6 which flies in lazy figure-eights over Montpelier, Ind. The signal which comes from this plane flying at a height of 23,000 feet provides some 21 courses for the current semester, a figure which will be multiplied as the program advances.

Technical aspects as well as educational programming were reviewed at the morning session. In the afternoon Jay W. Formosa, principal of Holland High School, demonstrated how TV classes can be fitted into the schedule.

Visitors also inspected the two MPATI planes Wednesday afternoon at Purdue University Airport in Lafayette.

Among those attending Wednesday's session from the local area were William Hornbaker, Verne Schipper, Cornelia Van Voorst, Ed Prins, William Gargano, Paul Van Koken, Douglas Tjapkes, Ray Reidsma, Lloyd Van Raalte, John Bos, Robert Slocum, Jay Formosa, Earl Borlace, Clayton Ter Haar, Margaret Van Vyven, Sister Mary, and Robert Strabbing of Holland. Paul and Keith Van Kooever, Neal Hoore and John Naber of Zeeland, several local persons made the trip by car.

Youth Admits Putting Rock On Rail Track

Fruitport Police Back On the Job

FRUITPORT — The Fruitport Township police department will be in operation at least until the November election and Fred Bates has returned to his chief of police duties.

The township board has decided to place the question of retaining or abolishing the department on the fall ballot after township attorney Paul Sorenson of Muskegon ruled that the creating or disbanding of a department is solely up to the board.

The opinion was requested after voters in a surprise move March 31 "abolished" the police department by a 57-13 vote. Sorenson told the board the department had never been dissolved legally.

It is estimated that 3,000 are registered voters in the township and some supervisors felt that the 70 persons who voted at the annual meeting were "hardly representative" of the township.

Opponents to the police department felt the department was unnecessary because serious accidents and fatal reports must go through the sheriff's department or state police.

Supporters argued that the sheriff's

Chris-Craft Unions Accept One-Year Pact

Members of three unions at the Chris-Craft Corp. approved a new one-year contract Friday that will give them a five cent an hour pay increase on a graduated scale. A spokesman for the three unions did not reveal the vote but said it was close.

Lodge 1418 of the International Association of Machinists; Local 1481 of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America; and Local 1908 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners represent some 700 workers at the pleasure boat building factory.

The company's offer was designed to assist the persons in the top brackets more than the lower brackets to compensate for the older, more experienced employees, company officials said. The pay increase averaged five cents. Also included in the offer was a fringe benefit of a half-cent to be paid on the insurance premium.

The employees have been working on a day-to-day extension of an old agreement since its regular term expired March 17.

The same condition has prevailed at Cadillac at another Chris-Craft plant but at the company's third works in Algonac members of the three unions have been on strike since the middle of March.

Blaze Causes Heavy Damage At Laundry

Fire, believed caused by a faulty motor, caused considerable damage at Bob's Downtown Self-Serv Laundry at 87 East Eighth St., at noon Friday.

Holland Fire Chief Dick Brandt said structural damage to the building would probably be in excess of $1,000. Damage to dry cleaning equipment in the building was undetermined.

Owner Robert Carley of 105 East 28th St., said two dry cleaning units located at the east end of the building, where the blaze was concentrated, were valued at $17,000 each. He said he did not know how much damage had been done to the machines, although an operator continued to operate during the fire.

The blaze apparently started behind the dry cleaning machines, burning wall board and the ceiling of the building around the machines. Carley said the machines used a non-flammable solvent. He said the solvent was completely flame proof and could be used itself to put out a fire.

The blaze was discovered by one of the employees at the laundry who had smelled smoke. Workers near the laundry said they had smelled smoke in the area several minutes before the fire was discovered. There were about a dozen persons in the building at the time the blaze was discovered. Carley said the laundry would be ready for business by tonight. He said the dry cleaning units would probably be in operation by Monday at the latest.

Holland firemen were at the scene of the blaze for about 45 minutes.

Change Study In Communism

ZEELAND — A unit study on communism, dropped from U.S. history courses at Zeeland High School this year, will be included next year in a third year English class for advanced students.

Edward Van Hartesvelt, who has taught the unit on communism for the last two years, is transferring into the school's English department. He said he would conduct the unit as a research project, requiring a research or term paper on outside readings dealing with the subject.

Conducted in this manner, the unit will reach the better students. Van Hartesvelt said the low average students tended to become bored and confused with the study in his history classes.

Van Hartesvelt had recommended earlier that the unit on communism be included in an elective social studies course rather than in the required American History course in order to reach interested students instead of forcing the unit on all students.

Van Hartesvelt questioned the wisdom of a bill before the state legislature in Lansing which would require a unit study of communism of all high school students in Michigan.

In a letter this week to Rep. Frederick C. Marshall, author of the bill, Van Hartesvelt recommended including the unit in social studies curriculum and allowing each school in the state to make its own decision as to whether the unit be compulsory or elective.

Van Hartesvelt proposed that the bill allow each school to set up its own course and select its own texts rather than using materials picked by the state superintendent of public instruction.

Boneless Roasted Turkey Wins Top County Award

Two-toned processed turkey produced by a Borculo turkey hatchery has been named Ottawa County's "Product Of The Year."

The selection was made Monday by a specially appointed group in cooperation with the Ottawa County committee for Michigan Week, May 20-26.

The boneless roasted turkey is made by Bill and Marve's Turkey Farm on 96th Ave., Borculo. It consists of light and dark turkey meat which is ground, seasoned, roasted, and prepackaged for marketing.

Introduced only last June by the DeWitt brothers who operate one of the largest turkey farms in the Midwest, the specially processed product is already approaching sales of 15,000 pounds weekly. Substantial shipments have been made to many foreign markets, including West Germany and Hong Kong.

The Ottawa County entry for "Michigan Product Of The Year" will go on display in Grand Rapids next week. Entries from Ottawa, Barry, Allegan, and Kent counties will be judged to determine the regional winner. Final selection of "Michigan Product Of The Year" will be made in May from among the winners in each of 16 state regions.

The committee that made Monday's selection was composed of Ottawa County mayors, including Nelson Bosman, Holland; Dr. D. C. Bloemendahl, Zeeland; J. C. Grysen, Hudsonville; Melvin Ter-Avest, Coopersville; and Glen W. Eaton, Grand Haven. Also present at the judging of entries was Herbert Vander Mey of Grand Rapids, Regional Products Chairman.

The committee selected Hart and Cooley Manufacturing Co., Holland, to receive the Michigan Week Achievement Award. This is presented to the firm that develops a product or service having a significant effect on company business. Hart and Cooley won with their Melvelt, a device for venting gas furnaces, water heaters, and other gas-fired equipment.

Hart and Cooley officials reported this product accounted for 11 per cent of their sales volume in 1962, and currently is producing more than 15 per cent.

Jack Curnick of Zeeland, Products Chairman for Michigan Week in Ottawa County, expressed appreciation for the many entries submitted. "The high quality of each and every one made the selection extremely difficult," he said. "We wish it were possible to present awards to all, for all of them have high merit."

Cite Trouble With Water

ALLEGAN—Although no one has yet complained of "suds" in their drinking water, there is growing concern here over the presence of detergents in private water supplies.

According to County Sanitarian Karl Zimmerman, the problem seems to be increasing each year, with a growing number of private wells developing "an off taste and odor."

The ability of household detergents to remain in solution—the thing which makes them good cleaning agents—also causes the water pollution problem. Detergents in waste water do not filter out.

Zimmerman said his department received 35 calls in the past month from residents concerned over their water supplies.

Most common detergent problems have resulted from improperly located wells, he said, indicating the situation could have been avoided if wells were installed the required distance from waste disposal fields.

Taylor-Harthorne Vows Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wayne Taylor

Miss Janice Kay Harthorne became Mrs. Jay Wayne Taylor on Saturday, March 17, in an early spring ceremony performed in the Central Christian Church in Sumner, Ill.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Harthorne of 1737 West 32nd St., while Mr. Taylor is the son of Mrs. Carl Norman of St. Louis, Mo.

The couple was married on the 50th wedding anniversary of the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Stout of Sumner, in the same church in which the Stouts were wed.

The Rev. Robert Brinkman, pastor of the church, performed the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony as the wedding party assembled in a setting of palms, ferns, candelabra and a bouquet of large white flowers.

Mrs. Joyce Jones, soloist, sang "Tenderly," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Claude Fyffe, organist, who also played traditional wedding music.

Mrs. Paul Boeve of Holland attended the bride as matron of honor while Larry Vanatta of Steamboat Springs, Colo., cousin of the groom, was best man. Valerie Vanatta of Steamboat Springs was flower girl.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a white bridal gown of tissue taffeta featuring a V-neckline with lace appliques on the bodice. Back interest on the bouffant skirt was added by a small bow at the waist. Her lace headpiece released a fingertip veil of double net. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses with white sweetpeas.

The honor attendant wore an orchid-colored sheath dress of taffeta featuring a scoop neckline, short cap sleeves, a net overskirt of matching color and a cummerbund. Her matching crown released a circular net veil. She carried a multi-colored bouquet of sweetpeas in cascade arrangement.

Miss Vanatta, tiny flowergirl, was attired in a white dress with a white cummerbund and carried a small basket containing multi-colored flower petals which she dropped as she approached the altar.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Harthorne chose a beige suit with co-ordinating accessories while the mother of the groom, Mrs. Norman, wore a suit of deep pink. Both had orchid corsages.

Jon F. Harthorne, brother of the bride, and Sheldon E. Laughlin of Jackson were ushers.

Following the ceremony the newlyweds greeted about 75 guests at a reception in the church basement. Scott G. Harthorne of Holland, brother of the bride, passed the guest book.

Serving the guests were Mrs. Larry Vanatta, and Mrs. Philip Vanatta, both of Steamboat Springs, Mrs. Gary Hutton of Quakertown, Pa., and Mrs. Max Hutton of Peoria, Ill.

For traveling the bride wore a blue sheath dress featuring a scoop neckline, a small bow on the front bodice and a three-quarter length matching coat. Black patent accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet complemented her outfit.

Rep. Ford Pushes Plan For Ottawa

WASHINGTON—Rep. Gerald R. Ford has requested the cooperation of Senators Pat McNamara and Phil Hart in obtaining authorization for Ottawa County to develop 2,000 acres of federally owned land in the county designated by the Forest Service for park and recreational purposes.

Ottawa County has some funds to provide picnic areas, hiking trails, horseback trails, etc. on this land in Park, Port Sheldon and Olive Townships. This development would be at no cost to the federal government and would carry out the purposes for which the land has been designated by the federal government.

Before it can spend the money in providing the park and recreational facilities, Ottawa County must have title to the land. Rep. Ford has asked Senators McNamara and Hart to use their good offices with Secretary of Agriculture Freeman to help Ottawa County obtain the property.

On Feb. 23 Ford wrote Secretary Freeman requesting an appointment at the Department of Agriculture to discuss this problem. When he contacted the Senators on April 6 Ford had not yet received a reply from Freeman concerning the appointment.

In his letter to the Senators, Rep. Ford said, "I would very much appreciate any help which you can give me in two respects. First, I would like the appointment with Secretary Freeman to go over with him this matter which can mean so much to the people of western Michigan. Second, I know the people of western Michigan will be grateful for any assistance which you can render in persuading the Secretary to transfer this land to Ottawa County so it can be developed immediately for use as a park and recreational area."

LIBRARIES

This week marks National Library Week.

Herrick Public Library in Holland has arranged many special programs as well as open house and special exhibits throughout the week. Local residents thus will be joining millions of people all over the country as some 5,000 communities observe National Library Week. The program operating in 50 states is designed to encourage lifetime reading habits and create a wider use and support of libraries of all kinds.

Why not stop in at Herrick Public Library this week? It's a beautiful place and you will enjoy chatting with the librarians. Take home a book or two. Reading can be more enjoyable than watching tv.

An editorial in the Niles Daily Star likens libraries to the once popular song, "The Best Things in Life are Free." It said, "The public library service is about as close as the ordinary citizen can come to getting something valuable for nothing. Granted his tax money or some private beneficence must support a library system, nonetheless a library card which usually can be obtained gratis or for a nominal charge represents an unexcelled information and entertainment bargain."

Here in Holland we are blessed with many fine libraries. Less than two years ago, Herrick Public Library was opened to the public. Last fall, Van Zoeren Library opened on Hope College campus. Both of these libraries were made possible through gifts of men who had lived in the community.

A few years ago, Western Theological Seminary proudly dedicated a fine new library. More recently, our two new high schools in Holland and West Ottawa opened fine libraries.

Yes, Holland is blessed with fine libraries. According to a recent survey, 75 million Americans are either without a library or have one which does not meet standards.

Think about libraries this week. Pay them a visit. You'll probably derive more satisfaction from such a visit than from anything else. Libraries aim to have something for everyone. Surely, you will find many things of interest there.

Mrs. L. Murray

Others present were the Mesdames Roy Arterburn, Gordon Cunningham, Paul Divida, Ed Falberg, John Husted and Phyllis Tucker.

The program for the evening was a speech on Alaska by Mrs. David Karsten. For seven years, she and her husband were teachers in the town of Yakutat, Alaska. The majority of the students were Thlinget Indians.

Using colorful slides, she showed their flowers, beautiful sunsets, the fishing boats and different seasons of the year. She stated that salmon fishing was the only means of livelihood and their food, dress and customs are practically the same as ours.

Refreshments were served by the hosts.

Living in the Light of the Cross
Titus 2:11-3:8
By C. P. Dame

On Palm Sunday, the first day of Holy Week, we can easily think upon the cross of Jesus. We are taught to live in the light of the cross, not only during Holy Week but all the time. The study of this lesson ought to help us to live more Christlike lives day by day.

I. God's grace is wonderful. Paul often wrote about grace because he had experienced it in his own life. Of the many friends which Paul had, three stand out—Timothy, Titus and Luke. Paul wrote two letters to Timothy and one to Titus.

In the first verse of the lesson text there are three important words—grace, God and salvation. These words seldom appear in newspapers. Grace is the unmerited love of God shown to undeserving sinners. It is this grace which accounts for our salvation. God personalized this grace in the life of Jesus. When a virtue is personalized it becomes more real. Kindness becomes more meaningful when it is expressed in a neighbor's life. God revealed his grace in the life, in the atoning death, and in the resurrection of Jesus from the dead.

True salvation is followed by gracious living. It teaches us to break with "ungodliness and worldly lusts" and in addition it teaches us to live "soberly, righteously, and godly, in the present world."

Observe that there is a negative and positive aspect to Christian living. The early Christians were constantly reminded of the blessed hope of the Lord's second coming. Our expectant living should be marked by activity. Christ redeemed us in order that we might do good works.

Paul told Titus to "speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority." Preachers of today should do the same.

II. Christians have several obligations. One of them is to be good citizens. Goodness implies usefulness — a readiness to do every kind of good work. This means to stop making excuses. Another obligation is to speak evil of no man. Church members sometimes speak evil of fellow church members.

In addition Paul tells Christians not to be "brawlers", people who pick quarrels, but to be gentle and meek. Many a church schism and quarrel would not have happened if the virtues of gentleness and meekness had been practiced.

Many of the early Christians had been converted from pagan and Jewish life and so they at one time were "foolish, disobedient" and had been deceived "serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another." They had been delivered from that kind of a life. Since they now were Christians, they were expected to live differently.

III. Good deeds are profitable. Four times in the pastoral epistles the words "This is a faithful saying" appear. Paul was a good teacher and therefore he stressed truths again and again. Some people speak much about salvation but they say very little about the good works that should follow the experience of salvation.

Paul told Titus to insist on good works in his teaching. Christians ought to show that they have been saved by the good works they do. When Christians fail to do good works the worldly people note it and talk about this neglect.

The trade-mark of a Christian is Christlike living. In these days when there are so many needs called to our attention, let us remember the words of Paul "and be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men."

Mrs. Nykerk on Stand Over
An Hour in Dara Sinking

Mrs. Gerald Nykerk, missionary to Arabia currently in Holland on furlough, has returned from London where she testified at preliminary hearings of the sinking of the passenger liner-freighter Dara last April in the Persian Gulf.

Mrs. Nykerk and her husband, Dr. Nykerk, were the only American survivors of the tragedy in which 236 persons were killed or presumed dead.

Mrs. Nykerk testified March 30 and was on the witness stand for an hour and a half. She said the questioning was nerve-racking and highly detailed since one of the main issues in establishing the facts was whether or not there was any negligence on the part of the crew. Since a British shipping company was involved, the hearing was held in London.

The local woman's testimony followed that of the captain, other officers and all crew members. Hearings started March 19. Some witnesses spoke in Arabic and interpreters as well as witnesses were sworn. Since Christian, Moslems and Hindus were involved, some oaths were taken on the Koran.

Considerable testimony was on evidence that the ship sank after a plastic anti-tank bomb was planted. Munitions experts had removed parts of the hull which had huge holes, testifying as to the probable size of the explosive believed planted by rebel Omani tribesmen.

Mrs. Nykerk said British courts are most formal and most business like, allowing in no way for any expression of humor. In court was a model of the Dara which could be dismantled deck by deck. Each person testifying had to establish exactly where he or she was at the time of the explosion. Certain details such as the number on the life boat the Nykerks got on was not known until Mrs. Nykerk was in court. Final presentations are being made this morning to the commissioners in the London court.

Throughout the investigation, it was made clear that there will be no compensation for loss of any kind in the tragedy. Mrs. Nykerk said only American ships require insurance of that type. Should foreign ships approach American mainland, special insurance is taken out for just those stops.

Wade Heads
County Board
Second Year

GRAND HAVEN — Lawrence A. Wade of Holland was reelected chairman and Henry Slaughter of Tallmadge Township vice president of the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors at the opening session of the April session Tuesday afternoon.

Since the equalization committee will be meeting today and Thursday, the next session has been set for Friday at 1:30 p.m. Since the equalization report by rules must "remain on the table 24 hours" the board will meet again on Monday to pass the equalization report.

Slaughter, chairman of the ways and means committee, presented an advanced proposed budget for 1963 for study. He said a great deal of time will elapse before the final presentation but urged supervisors to study carefully the financial problems of the county.

The proposed budget lists a grand total of $1,380,756.23, of which $323,280 is for salaries, $113,500 for miscellaneous, $124,345.63 for the health unit fund, $141,000 for Social Welfare, $27,000 for direct relief, $50,000 for county parks, $200,000 for county roads and $35,000 for child care fund.

In other business, the board approved transfer of $110,000 in fees and interest to the improvement fund. Slaughter explained that roughly $94,000 was in fees and $17,000 in interest at the close of the calendar year 1961.

Necia De Groot, director of the Department of Social Welfare, presented the department's annual report, pointing out growing needs in a growing county, particularly in view of a new state ruling last September which lifted restrictions on charge-backs to other counties for new arrivals seeking relief.

The report revealed a $10,000 balance in the county infirmity account, which will be credited to local government units. Next year the daily $2.60 cost per inmate will be reduced to $2.50.

Charles Gomery, a partner in Gomery Motor Sales in Grand Haven, appeared before the board to protest what he termed unfair practices or discrimination in the purchase of seven cruisers for the sheriff's department.

His prepared statement contained considerable technical data on specifications, and he felt his bid on 230 h.p. engines which was lower than the 250 h.p. engines purchased should have been honored.

William Kennedy of Allendale, a member of the sheriff's committee, said the committee gave careful consideration to the initial costs, cost of operations and trade-in values, and based decisions on carefully kept records maintained by the sheriff over a long period of time. He said the committee feels it did take the lowest and best bid available but pointed to controversies which can develop when detailed alternative bids are presented.

He asked if the committee were bound to honor any low bid as such (what about compacts?) and his question was referred to the county prosecutor for a written opinion for the benefit of the sheriff's committee and other committees faced with purchases of this type.

Meanwhile, on motion of Herman Windemuller of Park Township, the board voted unanimously to approve the action of the sheriff's committee in the recent purchase.

A letter containing 18 signatures protesting dogs roaming at large was referred to the sheriff's committee. All signatures were by residents in the vicinity of James St. and Division Ave. near Holland. Lest the board regard roaming dogs as a laughing matter, one supervisor said the county recently had settled a $1,000 claim for damage done by dogs at a turkey farm in that locality.

George Wessel of Grand Haven and Henry Van Noord of Hudsonville were seated as new members of the board.

The board was invited to visit Kalamazoo State Hospital May 1 in connection with Mental Health Week.

Some 20 resolutions from other Boards of Supervisors in Michigan were referred to the legislative committee for report later.

The board passed the necessary resolution for $2,250 in matching funds for the Marine Enforcement Fund. This fund is matched by the state for water safety through the sheriff's department.

A resume of progress at the Constitutional Convention as prepared by D. Hale Brake for the Association of Boards of Supervisors was read.

Chairman Wade announced he would appoint new committees at the Friday session which opens at 1:30 p.m.

Latin America
Plan Defended
By Ambassador

The United States Ambassador to the Organization of American States, De Lesseps S. Morrison, defended President Kennedy's new Alliance for Progress program with Latin America to an audience of students and townspeople Monday night in Dimment Memorial Chapel at Hope College.

His Excellency Mr. Morrison appeared under the auspices of the Association of International Relations Clubs, a college organization holding its 15th annual National Conference at Hope this week.

The speaker stressed the difference in the Alliance concept of cooperation with the Latin countries, in comparison to other aid programs, such as the Marshall Plan. Not a "give-away" program, the Alliance involves a total expenditure of some $100 billion, and "80 per cent of this figure will come from Latin America itself."

Answering recent criticism that the program is "bogged down" either in Latin America, or in this country, or in both places, Mr. Morrison cited instances of tangible progress in several Latin American countries already as a result of the program, and said that many other countries are willingly scheduling programs for development within the framework of the Alliance plan.

He denied charges that the "self help" aspects of the program are a scheme to "rob the rich and give to the poor." Calling attention to the wide extremes of extreme wealth and abject poverty in many of the Latin American countries, he said that there has been evident some progress in educating landholders that they must free more of their wealth for the good of the country, and in the interests of political stability.

Commenting on questions from delegates in the audience following his speech, the ambassador:

—Said that competition engendered among Latin nations for Alliance aid, plus provisions in the formation of the plan for dealing with countries defaulting on loans, provides guarantees that loans made under the Alliance program will be repaid.

—Said that the recent removal of Argentine president Arturo Frondizi has little or no effect upon the Alliance program; although U.S. officials are watching the Argentine situation "closely."

—Declared that the results of the Argentine election which brought about the ouster of Frondizi, while indicating the existence of strong Peronist elements, by no means defined the majority of the Argentine electorate as pro-Peron. He said the vote was approximately 36 per cent Peronist.

—Refused to comment on recent integration troubles in New Orleans, where he was mayor until his appointment as O.A.S. Ambassador by President Kennedy. He said comment from him would only make the present mayor's job harder.

Earlier in the evening, Dr. Raymond L. Zwemer, former member of the Science Advisory Committee of the State Department, opened the Conference by addressing the audience at the keynote banquet on the topic, "Cooperation—Prompt, Permanent, Personal."

Dr. Zwemer stressed the importance of maintaining an attitude of readiness to assist our southern neighbors which is both lasting and sincere.

West Ottawa High School Is Formally Dedicated

In giving the dedicatory address at a formal program of dedication for the new West Ottawa Junior-Senior High School Saturday afternoon, Dr. James H. Zumberge, president of the new Grand Valley State College, said liberal education as such is just as applicable to a school like West Ottawa as it is to the new Grand Valley State College now in the planning stage.

"We are not planning an ivory tower curriculum at the new college," he said. "We are only trying to carry on the things already made manifest at West Ottawa."

He spoke of new trends in education, particularly the well established fact that the educational process is longer than it used to be. He pointed to a questionnaire in a college in which 75 per cent of the 3,500 students answering indicated they planned graduate work at some point.

"We hope to welcome some West Ottawa students to our first class in 1963," he said, adding that plans call for 200 to 300 freshmen at the beginning. With a class added each year, it will be four years before a senior class is graduated, he said.

Pointing to the need of continuing learning, he ended with the quotation, "The man who graduates today, stops learning tomorrow, is uneducated the day after."

School Supt. Lloyd Van Raalte presided at the program which attracted some 400 to the cafeteria. Music was provided by the school band in smart uniforms and the school choir in new robes. The Rev. Charles Vander Beek of Rose Park Reformed Church gave the invocation. The Beechwood Boy Scouts presented colors and Ellen Glupker, mayor of Junior High, led the pledge of allegiance.

Architect Guido A. Binda presented the building to the board, with acceptance by Jack Daniels, board secretary, who responded in the absence of Dr. J. Dyke van Putten, board president. High School Mayor John Hudzik responded for the student body, expressing pride of the students in the fine new building, the pool, the fine curriculum and the food program.

Additional crowds gathered for the open house from 4 to 6 p.m. Many teachers were in their classrooms to explain operations. Most activity was at the recently opened pool which featured swimming demonstrations.

Souvenir booklets were distributed explaining the history of the district and how the school came into being. The new layout provides 179,800 square feet of space and involved construction costs of $2,307,923.29, for a per square-foot cost of $12.98. The building presently accommodates 1,140 students with planned optimum capacity of 1,500. The present instructional and administrative staff numbers 51 professional men and women.

Board members are J. Dyke van Putten, Jack Daniels, Harvey De Vree, William M. Sanford, Harvey Knoll, Howard R. Davis, Louis J. Van Slooten, Lloyd H. Van Raalte is superintendent, Clifford M. Marcus is high school principal and Edward J. Roberts is Junior High principal.

Allegan Supervisors Delay Vote On New County Jail-Juvenile Home

ALLEGAN — County supervisors decided Tuesday to postpone their decision on the county jail-juvenile home dilemma until Friday to give board members a chance to sample public opinion on their home grounds.

Special jail building committee chairman Francis Brower told the board it had two choices in solving the problem of constructing both facilities with funds sufficient only for a jail.

With $456,000 plus an estimated $10,000 interest available, Brower said cost of the proposed 60-inmate jail had been whittled to $445,000, leaving only $11,000 for the juvenile home.

Two alternatives offered by the committee included asking the people to approve continuing the present 1-mill sinking fund levy for another year to raise approximately $160,000 for construction of the juvenile home, or —

Earmarking of certain fees now going into the county's general fund for a period of time to raise the necessary money.

Brower said the use of fees in an amount not exceeding the equivalent of one mill of the county's state equalized tax base was a method upheld by the supreme court and currently in use in several counties for capital improvements.

Allegan county could raise about $65,000 a year in this manner, but it was pointed out that the county would have to ask the tax allocation board for a millage increase to make up the deficit left in the general fund if the fees were set aside for construction of the juvenile home.

Supervisors pointed out that this probably would mean the county would need five and a quarter mills next year, further reducing the school's share of the 15-mill tax "pie." Some board members warned that this would result in more requests for extra voted operating taxes by school districts.

"In the long run, this might cost county taxpayers more than it would if we asked them to extend the 1-mill sinking fund levy," according to one supervisor.

Holland Takes Second in Meet

ALLEGAN — Holland High's track team topped three first places here Tuesday and finished second in a triangular meet that was won by Muskegon Heights in the opening meet for the three schools.

Muskegon Heights rolled up 7 1/2 points while Holland had 36 and Allegan, 29 1/2. Joe Parham, defending LMAC sprint champ, was the lone doubler in the meet with victories in the 100 and 220.

But Holland senior Les Cornelissen pushed Parham in both races and the duel between the pair was the highlight of the running events. Cornelissen covered the century in 10.2 to set a Holland high mark while Parham was home in 10.1.

Cornelissen broke the oldest mark on the Holland High record book. That was a 10.3 hundred run in 1946 by Ed Leverette. Until Tuesday, this was the only mark that a Bill Hinga-coached team hadn't broken.

Senior Larry Mannes copped first in the high jump with 5'10" leap and senior Ed Millard took the mile in the fine time of 4:50.7. Mannes was nosed out in the broad jump by Allegan's Buzz Luttrell, who jumped 20'7 1/2". Senior Terry Nyland of Holland won the shot put with a 48'9" heave.

Results in order of finish: 120-yard high hurdles — Sanders (MH), Hopson (MH), Van Egmond (H), Hollenbach (H). Time 18.

880-yard relay — Muskegon Heights, Allegan. Time 1:33.2. Mile — Millard (H), Bringdan (MH), Kosselak (MH), Beatty (A). Time 4:50.7.

Life Magazine Photographer Visits Holland

The weather Monday played tricks on two men in Holland looking for signs of spring as part of a picture assignment for Life magazine.

Joe Clark and James Sullivan, both of Detroit, included Holland in their assignment covering signs of spring in Michigan. The pair spent most of the morning photographing some 300 Holland High School klompen dancers at practice, about the only visible sign of spring in Holland Monday.

The pair arrived in Holland Saturday night. Sunday they were flown to Escanaba by Art Peters where Clark photographed the icebreaker "Mesquite" opening the harbor at Little Bay De Noc.

Following the morning shooting of Holland's klompen dancers, Clark and Sullivan took a group of the dancers to Windmill Park, along with a wooden show carver, for further pictures.

The two men were given their signs of spring assignment last Thursday. They spent all day Friday getting together several ideas for pictures prior to coming to Holland Saturday.

Clark is a Detroit freelance photographer whose work has often appeared in Life magazine.

Sullivan is a "stringer" for Life. The magazine has no regular office and full-time staff of correspondents in Michigan.

Clark and Sullivan were shown around Holland by Mayor Nelson Bosman and Tulip Time Director Chester Walz.

Public Relations Defined Best Through Golden Rule

"All the public relations in the world today can be boiled down to using the Golden Rule and employing good will," James Folkertsma, an education salesman with the Upjohn Co., told the Holland chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants at their 13th annual Public Relations dinner Tuesday night in Hotel Warm Friend.

More than 100 were present for the annual event in which employers and wives were guests of chapter members.

Speaking on the subject, "You and Your Public," Folkertsma, a former Zeeland resident, said the realm of public relations is so broad that every persons has a different definition for the term, and the concepts of the PR man range from the cartoon-character yes-man to the picture of the Madison Ave. ad man spending all his time entertaining prospective clients at the Stork Club.

"Yet, there is nothing new about public relations, although the last decade has revealed complex problems not even dreamed of in the 20's and 30's," Folkertsma said.

"Back in the 20's, all a person had to do to start a business was have an idea, obtain financial backing and if the business became successful the owner had every right to be autocratic. Today, business is more democratic, problems are more complex and it takes the pooled effort of many people to solve them."

"Most people are ambitious, and there are still different ways of climbing the ladder of leadership. The persons who climbs without trampling others ends up happier than the person who runs roughshod. The good will of people both above and below is more necessary today than it used to be," he said.

Folkertsma said today's world requires money, and since most people must work to have money, this means jobs. For best results, he recommended hard work, coupled with honesty, both with oneself and with others. One of the biggest "upsets" is the tendency to resist change, but he said changes are a natural development, and those who keep abreast of change may find it the key to success, and those who effect the changes may find it the key to leadership.

He spoke of the innate desire on the part of everybody for respect, but he said people must earn respect, and the best way to earn this respect is to be of service to others. He recommended work on fund raising, service clubs, church and activities outside work, pointing out that recognition outside the office often leads to growing respect among fellow employees inside the office.

In general, he recommended common courtesy, common decency and common sense in dealing with others, and said the perfect public relations message may be found in the Bible, Matt. 5, 6 and 7, the Sermon on the Mount.

President Gertrude Frans welcomed the group and Ann Brower introduced the speaker. Several members of visiting chapters were introduced. Organ music was provided by Isla Kamps. Clarence Jalving gave the invocation.

Rental Fees Are Adopted For Schools

A policy on the use and rental of school buildings, facilities and equipment was approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

The new policy is with particular regard for the new high school, providing use for school purposes first and for other legitimate community needs and activities when these do not interfere with the school program.

The lengthy six-page report lists rates for rentals of certain buildings or facilities. For instance, rental of the fieldhouse for municipally sponsored or such related groups as Tulip Time lists $30 for daytime use and $60 for evening when no admission is charged, and $50 for daytime and $100 for evening when admission is charged. School or class-sponsored activities in the fieldhouse generally incur a rental of $200 a night.

Rental of the new high school auditorium to municipally sponsored groups charging admission will be $35 a night and for other groups $75 a night.

In general no charge will be made to school or class groups operating within the school district providing no admission is charged or collection or offering is taken, and providing the facilities desired are not then in use or intended to be used by the public schools.

Rental of Junior High auditorium (old high school) will be $15 when no admission is charged, $25 if admission is charged, $10 for rehearsals except no charge is made for one final dress rehearsal.

Rental of Junior High gymnasiums is $10 an evening from 7 to 10 p.m. for adult recreational use. Elementary school gymnasium rentals list $5 a night without use of showers and $10 including showers for a three-hour period, 7 to 10 p.m.

The detailed statement includes incidental charges for certain rooms in schools, and a $25 charge an hour or fraction thereof for any gathering extending past midnight.

In other business, the board adopted a proposed calendar for the 1962-63 year which calls for 182 days of school opening with regular classes Wednesday, Sept. 5. There will be a two MEA regional conference for teachers in Grand Rapids in October, and a two-day Thanksgiving recess Nov. 22 and 23. Christmas vacation will start Dec. 20 and classes will resume Jan. 2.

A county institute is scheduled in February, and schools will close March 29 for spring vacation, resuming classes April 8. Memorial Day will be observed Thursday, May 30. Baccalaureate services are scheduled June 2 and commencement June 6. Schools will close Friday, June 7.

President John D. Plewes appointed Harvey Buter to represent the Holland Board of Education on the County Tax Allocation Board. He will succeed Bernard Arensdorff who has served in this capacity several years.

Supt. Scott read a communication from Dr. Lynn Bartlett, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, approving the proposed annexation of Lakeview District to Holland District, pending a public vote in the Lakeview District.

Scott also read a communication from Clara Reever pointing to her retirement in June. In accepting her announcement with regret, the board expressed appreciation for her many excellent years in the schools, for her devotion, her cooperation and a real love for boys and girls.

A communication signed by a group of parents of the Federal School District informed the board that some parents would much prefer to send their children to Holland schools and asked whether any plan could be worked out to accept Federal children before political annexation to the city is effected. The communication was referred to the schools committee.

Bernard Arensdorff, reporting for the buildings and grounds committee, presented a resolution acknowledging seven years of service to the Holland School District on the part of Building Consultant Arthur Read who has assisted in program affecting a new elementary school, a new shop building for Junior High, arranging temporary quarters in homes, a church and a store building, and overseeing construction of a new high school. The resolution which expressed appreciation and gratitude to Read for his efficient coordination of work among contractors was adopted unanimously.

Arendsdorff also presented detailed plans for landscaping the grounds at the new high school, covering the same categories discussed at the March meeting.

High School Principal Jay W. Formisano reported on presenting the high school program at meetings of the Northcentral Association in Chicago and before the entire professional staff of the Department of Public Instruction in Lansing, both of which were enthusiastically received.

Secretary James Hallan called attention to the regular school election the second Monday in June, at which time terms of Hallan and President John D. Plewes expire. Last day for filing petitions will be the second Monday in May.

Request for funds needed for April totaled $143,020 of which

Mayor Nelson Bosman has proclaimed this week as International Barbershop Harmony Week in which 30,000 barbershoppers in the United States and Canada are dedicating themselves to community service through song.
